Top Tips

Parenting top tip What to do when children argue

Children often argue because they haven't yet learned emotional regulation skills. Helping them practise calm-down techniques during non-stressful times makes it more likely they'll use them during conflicts. Examples to teach: taking a deep breath; stepping away from the argument briefly, using a "calm voice", saying what they need instead of blaming. If appropriate think about allowing for some negotiation and choice. For example: 'Would you like to do your homework before or after tea?' 'You can tidy up by yourself or I can help you.' 'Would you like to have your screentime in the morning or the afternoon?' Children do get told what to do quite a lot, and some (especially those who are strong willed) like to feel that they have some control and offering choices helps with that.

Activity

We have had a lot of rain lately! Adults often see it as an inconvenience don't they, but looked at through a child's eyes it can be fun. So next time it's raining why not put your waterproofs on and head outdoors. Here's an idea that might appeal to your little ones.

Start a raindrop orchestra

Take some different objects outside to see what sounds the rain makes when it falls on them. Try different-sized saucepans or raid your recycling for foil containers and empty tin cans. Can you hear heavy drumming, a soft pitter-patter or pretty tinkling sounds? Try to create as many different sounds as possible and make some raindrop music.
